W01 - The Four Interrelated Views of the Therapeutic Community

Ed Roberts, MA

Director of Treatment Operations, Community Education Centers, West Caldwell, NJ

With the ending of the war in Iraq and the winding down of the war in Afghanistan, an increasing number of Veterans needing treatment services is expected. This workshop is an overview of a framework for treating Veterans based on a newly formed Substance Abuse Treatment Program in the Virginia Department of Corrections, informed by some of the latest research on treatment for Veterans. What will be overviewed is the unique aspects of programming tailored specifically to Veterans, using the framework of “The Four Interrelated Views of the Therapeutic Community: The View of the Person, The View of the Disorder, The View of Recovery, and the View of Right Living.”

W02 - Impact of Trauma for Non-Treatment Providers

Theresa Trevethan, PhD

*Outpatient Clinician/Pre-doctoral Internship Supervisor
Holcomb Behavioral Health, Exton, PA*

Trauma affects a Veteran's life in every facet, housing, case management, probation, and employment. Symptoms may have served as adaptations or coping mechanisms. This presentation will address the impact that trauma may have on individuals who are receiving non-treatment oriented services. This can include the impact of trauma on housing needs, the Veteran's ability to complete education or maintain gainful employment, and how an individual may respond to case management services.

Concurrent Session III

T05 - Wounded Warriors Family Perspective

Capt. Patricia L. Poloka-Melendez, MS

CIT Coordinator, Soldier, Family Member

Pittsburgh Bureau of Police & PA Army National Guard, Pittsburgh, PA

Spending the night in jail is one call away for a combat veteran. The horrors of war never go away completely. Intrusive images cause honorable military member to commit crime. All too often, families of Veterans with PTSD and TBI walk on egg shells to prevent a flashback or rage in their loved one. Mentally wounded warriors have scars no one will ever see and their families endure pain as well. This session will discuss assessment of the family for trauma and recommend viable options for family wellness.

T06 - Utilizing Cognitive Behavioral Techniques with Incarcerated Veterans

Jean Coyne, MEd, Program Supervisor Mercy Behavioral Health

Karen Cordaro, MEd, Mercy Behavioral Health

Michael Luxemburger, BSW, Mercy Behavioral Health

These cognitive behavioral methods were designed to specifically help those incarcerated to recognize the connection between their thoughts and behavioral patterns. As thinking happens automatically and evokes specific feelings, there is often a risk involved if/when we act on these feelings. In this presentation the participant will construct a "Thinking Report" and evaluate the thought processes which lead to high risk behaviors. Our focus is to help the incarcerated Veteran develop an awareness of those thoughts and feelings that lead to their high risk behaviors, and practice new thoughts that will reduce the risk.

2:00PM – 2:15PM

Break

2:15PM – 3:15PM

Plenary Session IV – Luis Carlos Montalvan
